Hi Amy,

I hope things have been going swell; I just wanted to check back in with you and give you the quote for a new server.

So, we have two options, either a new physical server would have to be purchased, installed, and have everything transferred over. The physical server alone is 8,000$, which is not including labor to install and configure machine. However, if you we can switch to an Azure server, which would be in the cloud, and NHCASA would have to utilize OneDrive, a SharePoint for all file sharing. For Azure, you would be paying 6$ a month per user and is much simpler to setup. We can discuss things further when you have a chance.

Thank you,
